

EMPLOYMENT LAW BRIEFING

HOLIDAY 2012

Special Holiday Issue: This special issue of EMPLOYMENT LAW BRIEFING addresses workplace questions which typically arise at this time of year. Please let us know if you have a topic you would like to see addressed in this publication, we welcome your suggestions. All of us at Whitford Law Offices LLC appreciate your support over the last year and extend our best wishes for the holiday season.

Exempt Employee Pay & Holiday Closures: In order to be exempt from overtime, employees must have both qualifying duties and be paid on a "bona fide salary basis." An exempt employee, who works any part of the work day, must be paid for the entire day. Similarly, if an exempt employee works only part of a designated workweek, due to an employer action, such as a shutdown between year-end holidays, the employee must be paid a full week's salary. Employers with a 12:01 a.m. Sunday to midnight Saturday workweek, closing between Christmas and New Year's Day this season, will need to compensate exempt employees for the final week of December unless no work is performed on December 23 or 24.

Overtime Adjustments for Bonus Payments: Many organizations have adopted a tradition of bonus payments during the holiday season. Bonuses are an effective way to reward a job well done and to encourage future efforts. Problems may arise, however, when a current or former employee does not receive a bonus, when one is expected. Additionally, if a bonus is considered "non-discretionary" under wage and hour regulations, any overtime payments during the period covered by the bonus must be recalculated to reflect the addition of the bonus amount to the regular rate of pay. To avoid unexpected liability, adopt a clear written policy describing the purpose of the bonus program, the period covered, the process for determining the fund from which bonuses are paid, eligibility requirements and the date of bonus distribution.

Holiday Parties: The use of alcohol at employer-sponsored parties prompts many questions each year. If your organization will be having a celebration this year, and alcohol will be consumed, we recommend these steps: 1. Avoid providing or paying for alcohol - use a no-host bar. 2. Make party attendance voluntary. 3. Provide food and non-alcoholic beverage options. 4. Prohibit excessive alcohol consumption. 5. Discourage drinking and driving – consider providing portal-to-portal transportation 6. Observe behavior and intervene, if necessary 7. Check alcohol policy language to ensure that party activities do not violate, and undermine, published standards.

IRS Mileage Rate: The Internal Revenue Service has announced a change in the standard mileage rate used to calculate the deductible costs of operating an automobile for business purposes. Many employers use this rate to reimburse employees for work-related travel in personal vehicles. The current rate, which has been in effect for the last 18 months, will be increased by one penny, to 56.5 cents per mile, as of January 1, 2013
